SOME men seem to think the salt of life is in their wives' tears.

A COMPROMISE in the strike of the Niedringhaus rolling mills of St. Louis is expected.

REISTEN, a Switzerland village, was visited by fire Friday and thirty houses were burned.

We have never heard the skunk referred to as a gossiping creature and yet it's a terrible tail bearer.

MINKIE BONHAGER, a pretty German girl, was killed by her lover, William Miller, in New York, because he failed to succeed in his horrible designs upon her.

The long dry spell having at last been broken we may expect to receive the quantity of rain than we should have had under ordinary conditions for the last two months.

SOUTH DAKOTA is being well supplied with artesian wells. They range from six hundred to two thousand feet in depth, and throw water from fifty to one hundred feet high.

TO-DAY is election day in Ohio, and much interest is felt in the result everywhere. The situation now leaves the result in doubt, but the BANNER believes that Campbell will get the Governorship and McKinley get "souped."

SMOKE is finding its champions in England, notwithstanding the effort made to prevent its diffusion in the atmosphere. It is claimed that the carbon in the smoke is a powerful deodorizer and, as such, is a blessing rather than a nuisance.

MRS. POTTER PALMER, is to drive the last nail in the Woman's building. The lady managers of Montana, at the suggestion of Mrs. J. E. Richards are having the nail made of gold, silver and copper. It will be forwarded to Chicago as soon as completed.

THE Houston Post, speaking of the state reformatory at Gatesville, says that it is a success, and that the superintendent during the year ending August 1st, paid into the comptroller's office the sum of $3,164.83 from sales of cotton produced by the inmates.

J. M. WEAVER, who embezzled large sums of money received by him from purchasers of land from the Little Rock and Fort Smith railway, has disappeared. He was superintendent of a Sunday-school, a temperance lecturer and editor of the Graphic at Van Buren, Ark.

THE ignorance in regard to this State throughout the East, says the New Birmingham Times, parts of West and in all Europe, is general. If Texas was generally known she would grow with a rapidity unknown by the events of the past our own people do not know what they have.

WOMAN suffrage is not prospering in Massachusetts. Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, who has been conducting a campaign there, says she is deeply pained to see that the women do not vote even on the school question more than they do. The fact is, the women would rather talk than vote.

THE charter of artificial rain-producing company has been filed with the Secretary of State of Kansas. The capital of the concern is placed at $100,000, and the object of the company as stated is "to be to furnish water to the public by producing and increasing the fall of rain" by the Melbourne plan. Melbourne will produce the rain, and the company has contracted to pay him 10 cents an acre for all the land watered by him during the next summer season.

COLONEL W. L. MALONE, for years manager and editor-in-chief of the Fort Worth Gazette, has resigned his position on that paper, the resignation becoming effective Oct. 31. It has not been made public what induced the resignation, which will be a surprise to the people of Fort Worth, nor is it known what Colonel Malone's intentions for the future are. His successor on the Gazette has not yet been named authoritatively and will not be for several days at least.

THE postmaster general of the United States has proposed a free delivery system for the entire country similar to the one now in use in large cities. Experiments in that direction have been made which have proved satisfactory to the authorities and doubly so to the people in the territory where they have been conducted; and the postmaster general reports that they have not been highly satisfactory from the point of convenience, but also from a financial standpoint.

THE MOB MUST GO.

Gov. Hogg has expressed his intention in no uncertain terms his evident purpose to pursue an unrelenting policy as he does other violations, mobocracy, and if possible break up lynching in the State. He offers $1,000 reward for the arrest and conviction of each of the leaders, and $200 for each of the participants in the burning of Lee Green at Linden on the 26th. Continuing he says: "If this is not enough to stimulate the detection, arrest and conviction of those criminals, or if you find any obstruction in your way to the full performance of your duties in the premises, please so inform me, that all needful measures may be taken within my power to maintain the dignity of the constitution and laws. Every citizen charged with a felony in this State is guaranteed by the constitution a speedy public trial before an impartial jury; the right to demand the nature and cause of the accusation against him and to have a copy thereof, the privilege of being heard by himself or counsel or by both; to be confronted with the witnesses against him; to have compulsory process for obtaining witnesses to his favor; that he shall not be held to answer for the offense unless on indictment of a grand jury; and that cruel or unusual punishment shall not be inflicted on him.

The prisoner was denied each and all of these sacred rights, so solemnly pledged to him, for, while in the custody of the law, in jail, he was taken by a mob, burned at a stake and murdered. If he was guilty or the foulest murder each member of the mob is none the less guilty of a like offense. The crime is deepened by the insult for the constitution and the shame reflected by the atrocious, barbarous act on the name of their county and State. If he was guilty the mob's action is an indignity to and reflection on every law-abiding juror and official in Cass county, for it proclaims to the world that they would not enforce the law. If he was innocent, then the mob has committed a crime so often inflicted on the weak by the bloodthirsty, brutal strong. No citizen who loves own life or appreciates his State can have any respect for a murderer. His contempt must intensify when he sees the mob return from a lifeless victim, whose blood has been shed while a shackled prisoner.

There is no room for mobs in Texas and they must cease their criminal raids if any virtue clings to established government. They are a menace to the life and liberty of unprotected citizen. They are enemies to the bill of rights. They are incubators and propagators of crime, visiting vengeance on the defenseless, often the innocent, striking down the bulwarks of liberty and laying waste to civilization.

In these days of organized society their fiendish work is without excuse and can not be tolerated. The prevalence of mobocracy means the subversion of law and order. The two cannot remain in harmony. As a rule the men who join mobs against the helpless to take their lives stand ready to serve on the jury to acquit influential criminals and to prate about the miscarriage of justice. It is time some of them were being brought to trial for their crimes before honest juries. I hope you will do your part in this case, as I shall cheerfully perform mine in it and all others of like brutality and disregard our constitution and laws.

FOSTER'S FORECASTS.

W. I. Foster, of St. Joseph, Mo., says: From the 11th to 20th of November will average warmer than either of the first eight days or the last eight days of the month. Clearing weather may be expected to leave the Pacific coast about the 2d or 3d of November, crossing the continent in about four days. The first half of the month will probably be more stormy than the last half.

My last letter gave forecasts of the storm wave due to cross the continent from October 30 to November 3, and the next will be due to leave the Pacific coast about the 5th, cross the great central valleys from 6th to 8th, reaching the Atlantic coast about the 9th. The storm center will probably take a central route, causing quite cool weather and snow in the Northern tier of states, and as it passes warm weather will occur in the Southern states south of it.

Severe frosts will follow it in Northern and Southern latitudes. Cloudy weather will increase, and the long periods of beautiful sunshine become less extended. Real winter weather may be expected in all the Northern tier of states, and a near approach to winter in all the states along the fortieth degree of north latitude. But the severest weather may be expected during the first days of the month.

TUESDAY'S ELECTION.

The latest indications in Wednesday's daily papers in reference to Tuesday's elections, gave:

New York democracy by 18,000 to 20,000. Roswell P. Flower elected Governor without much doubt to succeed David B. Hill. Fasset, his republican opponent, did not carry Elmira, his own city. The Republicans made a clean sweep in Ohio. McKinley beat Campbell for Governor by 17,000 majority, and both branches of the Legislature were elected republican.

Russell, democrat, defeated Allen, republican, in Massachusetts by a small majority, probably 9,000.

Boies, democrat, defeated Wheeler, republican, in Iowa, but by a small majority.

There was a falling off in the Alliance vote in Kansas, where nine district judges were to be elected, but the result is not known at this writing.

There were five tickets in the field in Colorado and the ticket elected will be mixed. Judge Holm, republican, was elected to the chief justiceship.

Frank Brown, democratic candidate for Governor in Maryland, received a majority of 25,000 or 30,000.

In Virginia there was a clean democratic sweep.

In Omaha, Nebraska, a republican mayor was elected.

The use of the Australian ballot system in most of the states made the count of vote slow.

The election in Mississippi was for railroad commissioners and members of the legislature who are to elect two United States senators. There is no doubt as to the re-election of Senator Walthall, but as between Senator George, democrat, and Colonel Barksdale, subtreasury, it was a contest: The indications are that the legislature will be overwhelmingly democratic, insuring the return of both Senators Walthall and George. It was the first trial in that State of the Australian ballot system.

In New Jersey part of the senate and assembly, and there is almost a certainty that both branches of the legislature will be democratic.

Nebraska elected associate justice of the supreme court and two regents of the State university, but party lines were not strictly drawn and National issues not involved.

RACE PROBLEM.

Bishop H. M. Turner has a scheme on hand for the solution of the race problem. He is against the scheme inducing the negro to emigrate either to Mexico or the West Indies. In his opinion neither of these countries are suitable as a residence for him. Africa is the land to which the negro should emigrate, says the bishop, and he has gone to that country to make an investigation of the possibilities of colonizing colored people from the United States. He is now of the opinion that the United States government should establish a line of steamships between this port and some port in Africa and take from 100,000 to half a million of the negro population of this country to the dark continent where they could be given an opportunity to work out their destiny.

On several occasions an exodus of negroes from their homes to different sections has been inaugurated, notable the one to Kansas a few years ago, and more recently the Oklahoma movement. In both cases a rank failure was the result. In place of an amelioration of the condition of the race being obtained much suffering and hardship was entailed upon those who had been persuaded to abandon their former homes for new fields. Of the few who have gone to Liberia the universal testimony of those who have been heard from is that the move was a mistake, and in every instance they gladly avail themselves of the first opportunity which presents itself to return to this country.

The fact is the negro is incapable of self government and when left to himself he will rapidly return to barbarism. The negroes are simply an imitative race like the monkey. He does what he sees others do. When there is no precedent to govern his action, no living example, he goes backward instead of forward. He is not by nature thrifty, and with him, "sufficient into the day is the evil thereof" and not one in one hundred of them thinks of the morrow. They must have a governing power to keep them civilized.

At 1 o'clock Monday morning 200 mounted men came from the mountains of Tennessee and liberated 200 convicts working at Oliver Springs. The people of the town knew nothing of it until 6 o'clock, when they found the stockade burned. All short term convicts were furnished with citizen's clothing, and except a few recaptured, all are at large, making over 500 convict liberated since Friday evening. The governor was there Sunday morning but left Monday morning for Nashville. Rumors prevail that that the miners will proceed to Tracy City and release the convicts there.

FREE COINAGE.

The trans-Mississippi Congress by a vote of 105 out of 147 favored the free and unlimited coinage of the product of American silver mines, but excluded the foreign product. The Fort Worth Gazette says, if free coinage is to be resorted to for the increasing of the stock of money in circulation, there is no reason for limiting it to the American product. The mines of this country yield about $60,000,000 worth of silver every year, which is not quite $1 per head of population. Under the silver coinage law that has been in force up to quite recently, the mints have been coining about $30,000,000 or half the product of our mines. The increase, then, if the free coinage of that metal is to be limited to the silver taken from American mines, is not more than $35,000,000 a year, or less than 50 cent per capita per annum. It will be a long time before we will begin to feel the good effects of a larger circulation at that rate.

CHILIAN MATTERS.

An imperious demand has been made upon Chili for reparation and apology for the insult and outrages committed upon the sailors of the Baltimore. This demand was made on Monday last, and the Chilean government has refused any apology or any reparation. The probabilities are that Chili has been induced to take this course by the comments of the London Times made on Tuesday morning, in which the action of the United States was condemned and rather severely commented on. The English papers forget that precisely similar action was taken by the British government in 1863 in the case of Brazil, through the officers of the English ship who were arrested were in citizen's clothes and were drunk and disorderly, yet a British fleet sailed into Rio Janeiro and took six Brazilian vessels, holding them as hostages for the reparation demanded, which had to be granted under the circumstances, as Brazil had no power to resist Great Britain. Perhaps when the Chileans hear that Uncle Sam is feeding the dogs of war raw beef and has added to his navy another new cruiser with an armament of eight four-inch breech-loading rifles and a motive power by triple expansion engines of vertical inverted cylinders making 185 revolutions a minute, they will weaken on the proposition and made them ask our pardon.

"UNTIL SEVENTY TIMES SEVEN."

BY JUDGE E. L. BYERS.
Survivors of the ill-starred crew,
Who were the faded gray,
Under these verdant elm trees' shade
Hear this, our plea, to-day.
With honest hearts and daring hands
We battled for the right.
Our cause was lost, the reason plain—
We had the world to fight.

Long was the unequal strife maintained
Against overwhelming odds.
Till thousands of our bravest, best,
Slept 'neath the valley's sod.
And thousands more for life were maimed
In that relentless flood
Of fire and sword and iron hail,
Till "hearts were torn of blood."

Still swept the ruthless tempest on—
Beach marked its lurid way,
Where beauties of the South
In smouldering ruins lay.
And when the grim war cloud was past,
Our hearts were sore and drear,
Our whole loved nation bleeding lay
Down at her conquerer's feet.

A retrospective glance presents
To our sad memory's view
Oppression, outrage, vile reproach,
And crimes of deeper hue.
Till sensitive and loyal hearts
With just resentment swell.
And say in bitterness of soul:
"Tis best with those who fell."

"The sandal tree perfumes, when riven,
The axe that laid it low;
And if himself would be forgiven
Man must forgive his foe."
Forgive, and you shall be forgiven.
Graven on sacred page,
"Firm as His throne" God's promise stands,
And shall, from age to age.

Faith, Hope and Love—the richest gems
That deck a human soul—
Assure us perfect blessedness.
While countless years shall roll,
But Charity, the brightest link
In all the golden chain,
In Grace and Truth and Mercy shines
Throughout the heavenly train.

Then, comrades, may no vengeful thoughts
Our throbbing hearts e'er swell;
But blessed, heavenly Charity
Within our bosoms dwell.
So that, when at Life's boundary,
At the setting of Life's sun,
We may the welcome planet hear—
The Master's words—"Well done."

Then, when the trumpet's piercing blast
Sounds the last reveille,
And throngs go to the great red sea,
And to the "crystal sea,"
Where wars and fightings never come,
And all our sorrows are o'er,
We shall stand reunion here
With "loved ones gone before."

SECRETARY RUSE preserves many of the primeval manners of his rustic boyhood. It is a rare thing to find him up after 9 o'clock in the evening, and if nothing prevents he goes to bed at 8:30. He gets up at daybreak, and instead of a lunch at noon, has dinner at that hour and supper at 6. Fashion smiles at him a little for these eccentricities, but that does not prevent him from being the most popular official in Washington.

BARON HIRSCH is said to be worth $100,000,000. He made his wealth chiefly out of contracts for building Turkish and Transylvania railroads. The Rothschilds were his financial backers when he assumed the contracts, but they got the idea that the railroads would not succeed, and therefore withdrew their support, and in consequence he reaped all the profits and became a many time millionaire.

The late George Bain was in all likelihood the most popular man in St. Louis. As president of the Merchants' Exchange of that city he was as companionable with the bootblack on the Exchange as he was with the wealthiest capitalist. In business circles he had a national reputation, and he was enterprising, generous and open-hearted.

HENRY CLEWS has written an article on the race for riches. He says most of the losses on Wall street are due to confidence in insufficient or second-hand information. His motto doubtless is: "Be sure of your clews and then go ahead." But you can't most always sometimes tell when you have them and the mistake is what "kills you."

It is reported that Senator Quay has instituted suit against several Pennsylvania papers for libel on account of recent publications in relation to his alleged connection with the Bardsley treasury steals. We presume that the senator expects to recover heavy damages upon the well known legal fact "the greatest truth the greater the libel."

PHONOGRAPHS are to be used in Mexican postoffices for the benefit of those who can not read or write. The illiterate Mexican will go to the postoffice, talk his message into the receiver of the phonograph, and when the cylinder reaches its destination the person addressed will be sent for and the message will be repeated to him from another machine.

The enormous export of wheat during the last few months are soon to be followed by heavy shipments of corn. On last Monday and Tuesday freight engagements were made at Baltimore for about 2,500,000 bushels of grain, mostly corn, to be shipped to the Continent. All indications point to the heaviest corn exports ever made from this country, and at good prices.

The anti-sub-treasury alliance people meet, in answer to call in Dallas October 31, to begin measures for the reorganization of the alliance on its original basis. The "original basis" did not contemplate such baldersdash as the Ocala demands, or expect to run the politics of the whole country. It seems to us that it was originally an order for social improvement and the dissemination of views on farming.

CHRONIC CATARRH.

History of a Case that needs no Comment.

What has been Done can be Done Again

The efficacy of Pe-ru-na in the cure of Chronic Catarrh of long standing cannot be told in greater eloquence or more convincing argument than by simply making extracts from letters received from grateful patients. The following interesting extracts from a correspondence with Mr. Peter Hattenberger, of Porterfield, Wis., tell their own story:

PORTERFIELD, Wis., Aug. 1, 1890.
Dr. S. B. Hartman—Dear Sir: I have been suffering with chronic catarrh about nine years, and it has now settled on my lungs and I have all the symptoms of consumption.

September 11, 1890.
I am improving very fast now. The cough is gone and the catarrh is beginning to leave my head and throat.

December 18, 1890.
I am still following your advice and am getting along well.

February 1891.
I am still improving in every way. The catarrh is leaving my head and throat.

April 27, 1891.
I am still using your medicine. My health is improving right along, my appetite is good, and I feel better than I have in five or six years.

August 28, 1891.
I am rid of the catarrh now, and feel perfectly well and happy. You are at liberty to publish my case for the benefit of others, and if there is any one who has any doubt about your medicine curing catarrh, let them write to me and I will be very glad to answer them. God bless you and yours.

PETER HATTENBERGER,
Porterfield, Wis.

It is to Pe-ru-na that he owes his life and health to-day, without the shadow of a doubt. Thousands of similar cases are occurring every year. Pe-ru-na rarely fails to cure any catarrhal affections of the head, throat or lungs, from the slightest cold to the most pronounced type of catarrhal consumption. Directions for use accompany each bottle.
